DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicants' preliminary amendment filed February 27, 2002 (Paper Number 6) is acknowledged and entered.
2. Claims 1-9 are pending.

Restriction/Election

3. A restriction to Claims 1-9 under 35 U.S.C. 121 is required to one of the inventions as outlined below:
  - Group I, consisting of claims 1-5 and 8-9 drawn to a method to treat conjunctivitis, classified under Class 514, subclass 2, for example.
  - Group II, consisting of claim 6 drawn to a method to prepare a medicament, classified under Class 424, subclass 529, for example.
  - Group III, consisting of claim 7 drawn to a composition, classified under Class 424, subclass 538, for example.
4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions in Groups I and II are unrelated to each other because they are directed to different inventions that are not connected in design, operation and/or effect. These methods are independent since they are not disclosed as capable of use together. They have different modes of operation, they have different functions, and/or they have different effects. One would not have to practice the two methods at the same time to practice just one method alone (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case claims encompassing invention disclosed in Group I is a method to utilize the product made by the method of invention encompassing Claim 6 in Group II, whereas the invention of Group II is to manufacture a product. Thus, inventions in Groups I and II will not be simultaneously applicable.

Invention in Groups III and I are related to each other as product and use thereof. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product [MPEP § 806.05(h)]. IN the instant case, the method of invention encompassed in Group I can be accomplished with a number of commercially available medicaments that may or may not comprise a protein. Similarly, product of invention in Group III for e.g., may be used as an ingredient to treat cold.

Inventions in Groups III and II are related to each other as product and process to make the product. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the method of Invention II to prepare product of Groups III can also be applied to prepare any pharmaceutical product. The protein product claimed in Invention of Group III may also be prepared by different methods, for example microbial fermentation.

The inventions discussed above are independent and distinct, each from the other. They have acquired a separate status in the art as a separate subject for inventive effect and require independent searches. The search for each one of the above inventions is not coextensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Further, a reference that would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious another group. Finally, the consideration for patentability is different in each case. Thus, it would be an undue burden to examine all of the above inventions in one application.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification (class and subclass), and their recognized diverse subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicants are reminded that upon cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

6. Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Examiner Kailash C. Srivastava whose telephone number is (703) 605-1196. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Thursday from 7:30 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. (Eastern Standard or Daylight Savings Time).
